

Care and tips for copper cookware

Care

When copper comes in contact with heat sources, the color changes on the outside. If you want to bring shine back to your copper cookware, we recommend the special copper polish.

Cleaning stainless steel inside

If you burned something in the copper cookware then soak it about half a day with detergent and water.

Cleaning in the dishwasher is possible, we recommend you to clean by hand because of the risk of oxidation.